

The North Etiwanda Preserve

A San Bernardino County Museum Association Field Trip

with Research Biologist Gerald Braden

Saturday, April 30, 2005

Check in at the museum at 7:00 a.m. and return about 2:00 p.m.

Explore Alluvial Fan Sage Scrub (AFSS), a very endangered habitat (most of which occurs only in the San Bernardino Valley). We will explore the formation of AFSS, its recent history, and the plants and animals that depend upon it, with a special focus on birds. Most of the trip will be spent hiking on and exploring the North Etiwanda Preserve, located above Rancho Cucamonga.

The cost of $40 per person ($50 for non-members of the Museum Association) includes transportation, a light breakfast, lunch, and beverages. We will be hiking over rough terrain for about 4 miles, so be certain to bring water, sunscreen, a hat, sunglasses, a high-energy snack, and sturdy, comfortable hiking boots. Cameras are recommended, and of course bring the very best binoculars you have!

Space is limited, and pre-paid reservations are required.
